The Defense Ask That Fifteen Witnesses Be Summoned - A Large Crowd in the Court Room

The trial of Dr. Edward Leon, charged with the murder of "a certain male child" of Miss Estelle E. Beach on the 31st of October last, as the result of an abortion alleged to have been performed on Miss Beach two days previously by Leon, was resumed before Judge Cole in Criminal Court No. 2 this morning, the court room being filled by an even larger throng than was the case yesterday. Not a woman, however, was present.

With but ten men in the jury box, David K. Meredith, Fenton Brewer, Wm. Wanstall, John M. Birckhead, Wm. W. Riley, Wm. H. Brinkley, Henry S. Thrift, John M. McClintock, W. S. B. Henry and Henry Naylor, jr., obtained from the regular panel yesterday, with eight peremptory challenges remaining to the defense and five to the government, the work of completing the jury from the forty extra talesmen summoned yesterday was begun immediately after the opening of the court.

Mr. James S. Davis, the first of the forty talesmen, was declared competent, Mr. Joseph Fowler was declared incompetent because of a formed opinion, and the box was then filled by the selection of Mr.

Dr. Edmond Leon.

James T. Harrison. The district attorney thereupon exercised his first challenge, excusing Mr. Henry S. Thrift. Mr. W. S. Richardson took Mr. Thrift's place, when the defense challenged Mr. David K. Meredith. Mr. Cyrus Spottswood, the first colored man drawn, was then declared competent, and Mr. Birney declared himself to be satisfied with the jury. The defense, however, challenged Mr. Henry Naylor, 'r., and, although the next talesman, Mr. John Slick, stated that he had formed an opinion, he explained that it would yield to evihe explained that he had formed an opinion, he explained that it would yield to evidence. He was declared competent, but after Mr. Birney had again stated that he was satisfied with the twelve men in the box Mr. Cook, for the defense, challenged Mr. Slick.

Mr. Geo. W. King was declared competent, but was at once challenged by the defense, and Mr. James A. Shaw, colored, defense, and Mr. Jan.es A. Shaw, colored, was then selected. Again the prosecution expressed their satisfaction with the twelve men in the box, but the defense challenged Mr. Wm. W. Riley, and Judge Cole excused Mr. James S. Davis, because of an important business engagement. Mr. Wm. T. Burdine was declared incompetent because of a fixed opinion and Mr. Wm. cause of a fixed opinion, and Mr. Wm. Mercer was accepted. That still left a vacancy in the box. Mr. Thad. Brashears Mercer was accepted. That still left a vacancy in the box. Mr. Thad. Brashears was declared incompetent, as was Mr. Peter M. Jones, colored, and Mr. Frank Dieu donne had conscientious scruples against capital punishment. The box was then filled by the selection of Mr. Spencer Johnson, when Mr. Birney challenged Mr. Mercer Another talesman, Mr. Frank Haines, was excused because of a prejudice against capital punishment, and Mr. John T. Fowler was accepted. The defense thereupon challenged Mr. Richard Chism had taken his place, the defense challenged Mr. McClintock. Mr. Andrew Archer was found to be competent, but the defense exhausted their last challenged by excusing him. Mr. Arthur W. Fairfax was found to be competent, and told to stand aside, while Mr. Richard Bruce, colored, was examined. Mr. Bruce was declared to be competent, but was declared to be competent. But the defense declared to be competent, but the defense declared to be competent,

The Jury Complete. The selection of Mr. George W. Hurley again filled the box, and, the district attorney declaring that he was satisfied with the twelve men, and the defense having exhausted their twenty challenges, the following were sworn as the jury: Fenton Brewer, Wm. Wanstall, John M. Birckhead, Wm. H. Brinkley, W. S. B. Henry, James T. Harrison, Cyrus Spottswood (colored), Richard Chism, James A. Shaw (colored), Spencer Johnson, John T. Fowier and Geo. W. Hurley.

Mr. Cason, for the defense, then presented on affidavit of the prisoner asking that District Attorney Birney stated that the affidavit failed to state who or where the desired witnesses were, and also failed to show the materiality of their evidence.

Mr. Cook explained that to do so would be and that the law did not require it. He stated, however, that he would not press the matter now, and it was passed over for the present.

The court then (at 12:15) took a recess until 1 o'clock.

The First Witness. Upon the opening of the court after re ess. Mr. Lewin, the district attorney's assistant, made the opening address to the jury, explaining the nature of the charge. The defense reserved their opening to the jury, and the prosecution then called their it lived but six hours. The primary cause of its death was premature birth. "Doctor," inquired the district attorney,

"what is the easiest method of procuring an abortion?"

Mr. Cook objected, stating that there was no averment respecting the ease or diffi-culty of obtaining the alleged abortion. Besides, it was not shown that the witness was expert in the performance of abortion. The question at issue was, did the defendant perform the operation?

Mr. Birney then withdrew the question, and asked the witness what was the cause of the premature birth of the child, and the witness replied that in his opinion it resulted from a puncture of certain organs by a sharp instrument.

Assistant Secretary of the Interior Reynolds has rendered a decision in the appeal case of Alvin West, formerly of the Ken tucky State Guards. The decision is one of the most important yet rendered by Judge Reynolds because it affects a large number of cases of pension claimants. The decision sets forth that a state militiaman is not pensionable unless his disability was incurred in the line of duty while actually in the service of the United States, under the authority of the President. Section 4693 of the Revised Statutes is held not to apply to the case, as he was neither wounded nor injured in battle with rebels or Indians, and because he had not prosecuted his claim to a successful issue prior to July Judge Reynolds in disposing of the cas rules that a state militiaman under orders from a United States officer is not thereby in the service of the United States, and a military organization is not in the United States service unless it is made a part of the army by being ordered or mustered into the service by the President. Matters Discussed at the Session Held Today.

A CALL ON THE PRESIDENT.

Overhead trolley wires is not one of the subjects that is on the program of the national board of trade, but at the beginning of the third day's session of that body at the Shoreham this morning the trolley was characterized as destructive of life and a menace to property interests, and these opinions were apparently indorsed by the intelligent members of this body. No action was taken, but the remarks of Mr. Tucker of Philadelphia, who, with other members of the board, inspected this morning the underground street railway system on U street, were listened to with close attention, and his motion thanking the representatives of the system for this "educational" visit was promptly adopted.

Mr. Tucker stated that a number of the members of the board had accepted the inwitation from Mr. Albert G. Wheeler to inspect the underground electric railway system in operation on U street, and had gone over the road this morning. The visit, he said, had opened the eyes of all to the practicability of applying in our cities a system of underground wires which would take the place of the objectionable and system of underground wires which would take the place of the objectionable and harassing overhead wires that do so much to disfigure our cities and interfere with the operations of the fire department.

"Also destroys life," interjected Mr. G. Waldo Smith of New York, and Mr. Tucker at once accepted the suggestion. He moved that a vote of thanks be extended to Mr. Wheeler for giving the board the profit of the visit, which was an educational one.

The resolution was adopted.

The resolution was adopted. On Immigration.

The chair appointed a committee consisting of Messrs. Lane, Field, Raymond, Smith Francis, Logan and Goodale to have charge of matters relating to the improvement in consular service. The special committee appointed to consider the various resolution relating to immigration through Mr. Stone of Chicago reported the following

"That the National Board of Trade hereby recommends the strict enforcement of the immigration laws of the United States; and further, that those laws be so amended as to require from every immigrant dethe immigration laws of the United States; and further, that those laws be so amended as to require from every immigrant desiring to come to the United States a certificate from the authorities of the town or district where he or she has resided, that he or she is a person of good moral character, has never been convicted of crime, has never been a public charge, and is of industrious habits and capable of taking care of himself or herself; such certificates to be countersigned by the nearest United States consul, and further hereby recommends such modifications of the immigration laws as will admit under agreement, tion laws as will admit under agreement, professional men and women and techni-cally expert artisans as instructors, with such safeguards and restrictions as will preserve the spirit of existing laws."

Objection was raised to the latter clause of the resolution on the ground that an of the resolution on the ground that an agreement was virtually a contract. This was admitted, but it was claimed that even a contract made to secure expert services did not violate the contract law, for the reason that this law was intended to protect the laboring classes. It was necessary, it was claimed, in manufactures, for example, to secure the services of experts, who would act as instructors. Their employment in an area interfered with the

was intended by this resolution on the labor classes of the country. He did not believe that any one present held the opinion that the effect of such a resolution if enacted into law would injure the labor classes. Why should the position be taken that there is no one in the world that can teach us in

Mr. Forward said that these men wer Mr. Forward said that these men were objected to only when under contract. It was argued that a contract made no difference, except that it was instrumental in getting the benefit of the experience and skill of men who made possible the establishment of manufactures and the employment of the working classes.

The fear was expressed that the privilege given by the words "under agreement" would be abused. It was said that the skilled men would come here if they were needed and so of professional men, but it was said that this country had an abundance of such men. In other words, there was no necessity to go to Europe to make Substitutes were offered and various amendments were proposed to get rid of the "agreement" clause of the report. However, the resolution reported from the committee and given above was finally adopted by a vote of 34 to 11.

This action disposed of one of the most important questions that has come before the board at the present session.

He found her in bed, suffering great pain, from the effects of a recently performed operation of abortion. The child had not been delivered, and witness prescribed the usual remedies. A few hours later a male child was born. Everything possible was done for the child, but it lived but six hours. The primary cause must therefore be strengthened and improvement for a committee of which Mr. H. F. Donsman is chairman. The report states that while thoroughly believing in the principles underlying the interstate commerce law were presented in the report of a committee of which Mr. H. F. Donsman is chairman. The report states that while thoroughly believing in the principles underlying the interstate commerce law were presented in the report of a committee of which Mr. H. F. Donsman is chairman. The report states that while thoroughly believing in the principles underlying the interstate commerce law, and that its vigorous enforcement would be equally conducive to good business morals and the financial health of the corporations subject to it, yet recognizing the fact that this law, dealing with a great subject in a new way, is purely tentative, and exemplary fines for all violations of the lay by its officers or agents; giving to the find-ings of the commission the validity of the report of a master in chancery; to enable the commission to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of testi-mony in all cases heard by them, or inves-tigations made by them on their own mo-tion; repealing that feature of the law which involves imprisonment as a punish-ment for its violation; such a definition of the terms of the law as may be necessary to bring within its provisions and restric-tions all common carriers engaged in inter-state commerce; to enforce upon common carriers a strict accountability to the owner property intrusted to the care of such common carriers for transportation, by the imposing of a proper demurrage charge for delay beyond a reasonable time in the transportation of such property; that the interstate commerce commission be directed to put into effect on January 1, 1896, a classification of freight which shall be uniform throughout the United States, accompanying the same with a form of common law bill of lading for use in interstate commerce.

On motion of Mr. Erastus Wiman a committee consisting of Messrs. Gidding, Lane, Gano, Stone and Wiman was appointed to call on Representative Cockran of the subcommittee of the ways and means committee on reciprocity to present the proposed amendment to the tariff bill in reference to trade with Canada adopted by the board at yesterday's session. A resolution urging the necessity of national legislation in regard to train robberies and train wreckings was adopted. Mr. Logan of Chicago presenting some statistics showing the great increase in the number of such occurrences during the past year.

Ex-Gov. Francis of Missouri wished to go on record as holding the opinion that Congress did not have the constitutional power to enact such a law, and the chal told him that he would be so recorded. Financial Issue. The finance committee, through Mr.

Pope, reported against the repeal of the law taxing the currency issues of all state banks, favored the increase of the national bank issue equal to the par value of the United States bonds deposited in the United States treasury; that an expert monetary commission be appointed. As to the issue of bonds the report was silept. Mr. Pope explained that no recommendation was made by the committee on the bond issue, for the reason that a majority of the committee favored the issue of bonds at a uniform rate of 3 per cent, in such denominations as would make them available to the people. But the Secretary of the Treasury had already taken action, and the committee believed in giving him loyal support rather than to advocate some other plan.

Quite a discussion ensued in regard to the issue of state banks. Some reminiscences were indulged in of the times when state banks flourished.

The discussion was interrupted by a remonetary commission be appointed. As to

The discussion was interrupted by a report from the committee appointed to call on the President, who stated that the President would receive them at 1 o'clock today. The board thereupon took a recess for that purpose. A session will be held this afternoon. It is expected that the board will adjourn finally tomorrow.

Reforms in the Consular Service.

At the afternoon session of the board yeserday an invitation from Mr. Albert G. Wheeler, the manager of the underground electric system for street railroads, which is in operation on U street, to visit and inspect this system, was accepted. The subject this system, was accepted. The sub-ject of reform in the consular service was discussed by Mr. Jonathan Lane of Boston, who spoke of the action of the Boston Mer-chants' Association, and said that the evils of indiscriminate appointment to the con-sular service could only be remedied by an aroused public opinion. He stated that the consular service of this country was the laughing stock of the rest of the civilized world.

Other countries kept men of experience at these posts, while here the consuls were constartly shifted for political reasons. He then introduced Mr. Theodore Roosevelt of the civil service commission, who made a characteristic address on the subject of the consular service. He said that an aroused competitive in character, to test the kr lieved that no changes in the service should be made for political reasons. If this sys-tem was adopted he thought that the very large and dangerous class of politicians, who want the offices for what they could make out of them, would be ruled out. A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Roose-velt by the board for his address, and a resolution was adopted authorising the ap-pointment of a special committee of seven to consider plans and methods to place the consular service on a footing corresponding to that of other nations.
